Prayer of the Day

One: God of soft whispers and thunderous love, breathe new life into our hearts as we pray the same prayer in many voices, saying:

All: On this gathering of believers and doubters, disciples and seekers, adults and children, pour out your Holy Spirit, O God of Pentecost. Give us a renewed sense of joy for the living faith that brings us together. Come to us now, Spirit of God, and blur the lines that threaten to divide us. Dare us to come closer to one another and still celebrate all that makes us different and unique. Remind us today that we are all one in the Spirit; then draw us into your story of love and forgiveness. Speak to us and teach us again that your Word is not "a liberal word or a conservative word, a white word" or a Latino word, an American word or a foreign word. "It is the word beyond all words," because it is the word of life and faith the Spirit breathes into our souls. Amen.

Silence for Personal Reflection

God's Promise of New Life

One: Friends, every time we come together the Spirit reminds us that we are not "goody-goody people," but human beings who are called to enact the Gospel in the world.

All: Alleluia! This is the Good news: in Christ God teaches us to be barrier-breakers, peacemakers, hope-bearers, and singers of a new song that rattles our bones with joy and gladness.

RESPONDING TO THE WORD

Prayer for the Day of Pentecost Based on Walter Brueggemann's book
"A Gospel of Hope"

One: Spirit of the Living God, come, help us to summon our courage and give us voices that are brave, clear and strong.

All: Holy Spirit of God, inspire us to recommit ourselves to God's truth. Come into our lives as a sacred wind of change and blow away our middle-class morality, our political ideologies, our comfortable lives and privileged complacency. Make space in our lives for the newness of Christ. Remind us once again that the Spirit is wind and not wall. It is possibility and not coercion. It is opportunity and not threat. It is hope and never fear, anger or prejudice.

One: Come, Holy Spirit, come!

All: Holy Spirit of God, come with your passion for all people. Blow away our cultural biases and our mistrust of diversity. We live in a society that wants to sort out and divide and alienate. Too often we assume that liberals and conservatives must be in conflict, and Christians and Muslims must be in shared violence with each other, and poor blacks and rich whites must compete with an edge of hate. Give us a new language and a new freedom to envision another reality where humankind is not divided into haves and have-nots, immigrants and citizens, straight and gay, entitled and unentitled. Keep alive in the Church the Good News of the Gospel, which boldly affirms that we all belong together!

One: Come, Holy Spirit, fall afresh on us!

All: Holy Spirit of God, touch us anew and empower us to enact our story of faith today and soon and often. Blow away our potential for intolerance, violence, destruction and power. Unmanacle our capacity for solidarity, friendship, creativity and kindness. Take us out of our churches and show us how to run risks for justice in a world where Palestinians are brutalized. Strengthen us to run risks for forgiveness in a society where black lives seldom matter. Help us to run risks for generosity in a country driven by acquisitiveness. Inspire us to run risks for poetic imagination in a nation of prosaic anxiety.

One: Come, Holy Spirit, with your uniting peace.

All: Holy Spirit of God, come and let loose your power over us. Bring your Pentecostal fire into our church. Give us an evangelical identity that is not twisted by religious certitude but that is rooted in God's mercy, justice and grace. Infuse us with your holy sounds that we may prophesy about an earth that is free of injustice and safe for all living beings. Amen.

The Lord's Prayer

All: Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy Kingdom come; thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For Thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen.
